Before celluloid : The stroboscopic animation principle was introduced in 1833 with the phénakistoscope and also applied in the zoetrope since 1866, the flip book since 1868, and the praxinoscope since 1877, before it became the basic principle for cinematography. Experiments with early phenakistoscope-based animation projectors were made at least as early as 1843. Jules Duboscq marketed phénakistoscope projection systems in France between 1853 and the 1890s.

At the start of March, the James Bond film No Time to Die, which was scheduled to premiere in March 2020 and to wide release in April 2020, was postponed to November and then subsequently to April 2021.<sup>84</sup> No Time to Die was the first film to change its planned release outside of China because of the early outbreak of COVID-19, and has opened discussions of dramatic implications on the film economy: many other productions had avoided scheduling releases at the same time as the 25th Bond film, and its new November date is in the busy holiday release period, leading to low box office intake in March/April and uncertain intake in November.<sup>21</sup> However, the postponement could reportedly generate more publicity for the film, and is also taking the familiar November release slot of the past two Bond films.<sup>85</sup> It has also been suggested that other high-profile films will follow and postpone releases, creating a similar effect.<sup>2184</sup> Several other films soon followed in postponing their releases worldwide: the heavily promoted Polish slasher film W lesie dziś nie zaśnie nikt Nobody Sleeps in the Woods Tonight was postponed from March 13 to some point in the future when the situation had settled,<sup>86</sup> and the political documentary Slay the Dragon had its theatrical release moved from March 13 to April 3.<sup>31</sup>

The Association of Independent Commercial Producers AICP released a set of guidelines and work place practices in early-May 2020 as restrictions began to lift across the U.S. This set included specific guidelines for all departments and worksites involved in productions.<sup>166167</sup> An industry task force of studios and unions submitted a report on June 1, 2020, with various recommendations on health and safety guidelines for cast and crew of productions. These guidelines include regular testing, wearing face coverings at all times when not filming, actors practicing social distancing whenever possible, reducing or modifying scenes involving close contact, and recommending that casting be performed via videoconferencing or self-recorded video rather than in-person.168169
